

BETH SPENCER

cool / green

Our friendship's rather cold and bare now
Tends to creak if we don't look where we place our feet

Carefully carefully

When I want to make love like lions like we used to Want to romp and fall back on a soft bed

Not be lined up on the cool green of a pool table
Ready to be broken